

God never promises his people that bad things won't happen to them.
But God does promise to use those bad things for their good. Romans 8:28

